“ Jen I cannot remember a time you were not a part of this family and loved so much. You will always have a place in my heart. Your kind spirit and respectful manor is what will be remembered. Anyone who really knew you knows that. Your at peace now your race is done and heaven is your home. Only one perfect person ever walked this earth, his name was Jesus. Not one more ever will, God said to be forgiven you must forgive and Jennifer you had a very forgiving soul and will be blessed. Those who can't or won't will never find peace. My heart aches with your passing you will be missed I always loved you and always will.

Auntie Eileen.

“ Jen...I am devastated right now!! This cannot be real. We have been like sisters since I was 16. I'm SO SORRY I haven't been down to visit in so long and now I'll never get to see You again. That changes NOW. I'm going home 2morrow to be with the Family & help take care of Bri. You can finally Rest Peacefully Jen. I Love You!!!

“ As I stumbled across this heartbreaking news I cannot wrap my head around this. I grew up with Jen and years later reunited here in Plainfield where she was living. Prayers extended to the entire family.

“ Jen I'm sitting here right now with tears streaming down my face! In between our laughter and our tears together you always knew I loved you from the bottom of my heart. You were always my daughter thru good times and bad. I never abandoned you in life nor will I abandon you now. I still have work to do here on earth (Lord knows I do) I will to the best of my ability! You definitely know that I will! Lol 😭 I will miss you and never forget our adventures! I love ❤️ you so just watch over us! Love you to heaven and back!! MOM
