“ I think we all have learned so much from Mandy. There are countless memories to pull from. But I feel we must remember the joy she brought. Mandy would light up her parents lives, Pinky would always be so happy sitting on the couch with Mandy, Nancy always singing along (my favorite was the Where's My Miranda song). Everyone would always sing and dance around Mandy. She taught us how to truly love one another too, you would always be getting kisses around Mandy and always tell your loved ones that you love them. Let's not forget Mandy taught us to rock out to your music, its there to enjoy. Miranda Mary you have taught me so much that you will never know. I'm so glad to have learned from you and I feel I am a better person because I was graced with your presence.

“ I am so fortunate to have grown up around Mandy. Mandy taught me so much. Her loyalty to family and friends will be missed. Every time I make frozen chicken nuggets, boiled hot dogs or crinkle cut french fries I think of my childhood.

Mandy always hated when anyone would leave the house. She always asked where are you going and whatcha doing? I'm right here Mandy and I'll be living life like you did -- loyal to the people that mean the most.
